Stillington Bowls Club

With the bowling season coming to an end the final games in the busy programme are being played. Stillington finished a very creditable 3 rd place in the Huby Triples league with mid-table positions possible in the Galtres and Veterans Leagues. The rescheduled home fixture in the Annual Charity match between Stillington and Easingwold was played mid-August with Stillington once again gaining victory in this two-leg competition. The match raised a total of £222, which this year was donated to MySight, York a local organisation that provides support and equipment for visually impaired people.

The finale to this year's members competitions will be the Finals Weekend being played inearly September with The Robin Thompson team competition the following week-end closing this season. As this season ends planning for next year is already underway.

Stillington and Farlington WI

On Wednesday 9th August in the afternoon, we had our annual bring and share afternoon tea. This year we were in Shirley 's lovely garden, enjoying a chat and some tasty treats before a brief committee meeting.

Our next meeting will be on Wednesday 13th September in Stillington Village Hall when we will hear about Yarn Bombing!

Talented knitters and crocheters get together to decorate public spaces, usually with a theme, you may have seen examples of this in Thirsk where the market square is often festooned.

Our talk will start at 7:30, all visitors are welcome, £4 entry for an interesting talk and refreshments.

Neighbourhood Watch

Warning after bogus police officer phone scam. North Yorkshire Police are urging residents to put the phone down on a recent telephone scam where the suspect claims to be a police officer: do not engage in conversation with the caller and do not give any personal information to them. If you're unsure about whether the person you're dealing with is a genuine police officer – stop – and call the Police on 101 to check their identity. It's recommended you wait at least five minutes or call on a different phone to ensure the scammer is not still on the line.

Please note our Telephone Box is for BOOKS and not for recycling items or waste

Our redundant BT Telephone Box has its new life as a well used Village Book Exchange service and we have a key volunteer who keeps the area clean and 'sorts the books' as needed.

The Telephone Box is for books only and not for residents to recycle or dispose of certain items. If you see anyone leaving 'unwanted goods' please remind them we have a splendid council recycling service: with public litter bins, a local tip at Tholthorpe or one can join Easingwold Buy & amp; Sell group to move goods on.

Weather Report – August 2023

Rainfall

The second half of July was distinctly wet, with an additional 85mm giving a total for the month of 115mm, nearly twice the average figure. The first half of August has given us another 65mm, more than half an average months' worth.

Temperature

July 2023 will not be remembered as part of a glorious summer. No extended spells of warm weather and the longest spell without rain was four days. The hottest day was the 7 th , when it reached 27.2° C, and the coldest night was the 24 th /25 th when it fell to 9.0° C.

The solar panels delivered a mere 375kWh, the lowest July figure since I started recordings.

So far in August the highest temperature has been 26.3° C, on the 10 th , while the lowest has been 9.3° C, overnight on the 6 th /7 th . Warm spells have been remarkably short-lived, a day or two only. M.T

Ian and Sue Bretherton wish to say a huge 'Thank You' to everyone who helped make our fundraising Summer Dance at Husthwaite Village Hall on 15 th July such a great success. Everyone enjoyed a fantastic evening and the dance raised an incredible £2,600 in aid of our charity's work in India! Amazing!

Our heartfelt thanks to all who keep the wonderful Husthwaite village hall's wheels turning for waving the hire charges for the hall and running such a friendly, well- stocked bar, to Thomas the Baker for donating all the delicious food, to Blue Fall for playing some great dance music for free and, of course, to everyone for either joining us at the dance or, if you were unable to come along, for making a donation to our charity anyway. We are truly overwhelmed by everyone's kindness. Thank You! Ian and Sue Bretherton Co-founders

Countryside Notes September 2023

Tuesday 22 nd August. Another fine day, like a few recently. Warm sunshine, patches of cloud, threat of a shower and gentle breeze. We finished harvest of Wheat and Barley yesterday, however the Bean harvest is a little way off being ready for the combine. This year we have had a fresh machine, though pretty near vintage in age, but it has been a good buy for us. The Corn has yielded moderately, with much of it showing discolouring and spoiling with the prolonged wet July and early August. The harvest, being Stop and Go when conditions have been right, has been gathered with fairly low moisture content, which is rarely the case in a difficult harvest. Corn in a big heap can be a nightmare if it starts to heat with moisture and the seeds' desire to grow and, if not noticed in time, can mould and rot. So, a watchful eye and the means to blow dry air into the heap or move it to a grain drier is necessary, immediately.

So much for that, now down to the nature bit. Last week as I was walking to the house for my morning coffee, I noticed two long pointed noses, obviously having smelt something good to eat, well actually a French delicacy of Escargot promised well for their 10 o'clocks. The night before, I remembered the crunch of a large Roman Snail under my boot. These two black fellows launched into it with relish, even though I stood only 6 feet away. I watched and listened to them for a while, then I strode over the top of them to get at my coffee. These two small animals are amongst the fiercest creatures on our planet, and no wonder Shakespeare's title of his play "The Taming of the Shrew" is so apt. Why these two full grown shrews were so absorbed in their meal, I shall never know. If two strangers are put together, one will totally eat the other in a little time, they have a big appetite.

It is amazing how everything green has been renewed by the showers and more of recent times from the parched pastures of June and wilting plants in the garden. Now, Wow, how the lawn has grown. More to the point, a paddock in front of the house, that had a crop of Thistles and Docks and was mown for Hay in June, has responded in a deep dense mass of White Clover that the Bees must be loving.

On the road to Malton today, in heavy traffic that was moving slowly, I was pleased to see in one length of 200 yards many yellow flowers: Yellow Fleabane, rather like a Marigold; pernicious Ragwort; tall Sow Thistle; small Nipplewort, and more of these yellow flowering Hawk Weeds. Nearer the ground, yellow Ladies Finger Vetch, what an array of colour. Nearer home, the roadsides were given what gardeners call the Chelsea Chop, which has released a second flowering of purple Cranesbill, tall orangey Agrimony, Knapweed, Meadow Sweet and more for the observant to seek out.

There is a lot of Fungi about in fascinating colours and shapes and sizes enjoying the moisture after the hot, dry spell. Of course, these Toadstools/Mushrooms are the fruiting bodies of the vast array of mycelium that lies in the ground or in rotting plant material, with other varieties growing Brackets on dead or damaged trees.

The Squirrels are busy taking Hazel nuts and preparing for the darker, shorter days, so gather up some of nature's palette in your mind and treasure the richness of the season. R & M

STILLINGTON BONFIRE -Saturday 4th November

Please help!

As always, we need lots of volunteers to help run the event. To get involved, please come to the planning meetings on Sundays 8 and 22 October, at 6.30pm in the Sports and Social Club. If you can't come to a meeting but are willing to help on the day, please call Graham Cookman on 810047 or Andy Hart on 810598.

Eco Top Tips from St Nicholas' Church

Every month the Eco-Working Group at St Nicholas' Church gives a few handy tips for every household to understand and control their carbon emissions, as an act of love for Christ's creation and our fellow human beings. For September, then: September - At the shops

1. Think before you buy: the manufacture of a new car uses a lot of energy and resources which generate 6 tonnes CO2e for a small vehicle (more than half your total year's carbon budget), 17 tonnes for an estate car and up to 35 tonnes for a top of the range Discovery Land Rover.

2. Buy local and in season produce and look forward to seasonal changes. For example, a punnet of strawberries flown in or grown locally in a hothouse in winter has a 1.8kg CO2e emissions cost, whereas locally grown in the UK in summer its only 0.15kg a punnet.

3. Do you really need a new computer, laptop or phone? Manufacturing new goods has a high environmental cost. A new laptop has a carbon footprint of 200kg and a high end desktop top 800kg CO2e.

Note to self

September already, autumn is knocking at the door, change is all around us. Last Night of the proms is on us (even almost over, finishing on the 9 th). Our village schools face a new academic year, children are going to school for the first time, new classes, and new challenges. Whether we acknowledge it or not, change is in the air, we draw our curtains earlier in the evening, the thermometer is headed in one direction as we notice it is getting cooler and for some the autumn feels daunting, facing loneliness as the nights draw in. What then are we to do to stem the autumnal glide towards winter and the coldness and gloom of shorter days and longer nights, how do we face the challenges of change? I hope I'm not alone!! You may have heard the phrase 'no man is an island' ; it comes from a sermon given by John Donne, Dean of St Paul's Cathedral. The words 'No man is an island' were embedded in a deeply Christian sermon about how human beings are connected to each other, and how important that connection is for the wellbeing and survival of any individual. When you hear the church bell tolling for someone who has died, don't ask who it is, Donne says, just know that it's tolling for you too because you are part of the same society and the death of anyone takes a part of your own life away.

Here is the 'poem' in full:

No man is an island entire of itself; every man is a piece of the continent, a part of the main; if a clod be washed away by the sea, Europe is the less, as well as if a promontory were, as well as any manner of thy friends or of thine own were; any man's death diminishes me, because I am involved in mankind. And therefore never send to know for whom the bell tolls; it tolls for thee. MEDITATION XVII Devotions upon Emergent Occasions John Donne [Originally published: 1624]

My hope and prayer is that we each have the courage and resolve to seek out and be part of that connectedness that is our humanity, that deep in our hearts we will know that we are not of ourselves entirely whole, that we do need each other, that we can have a shared vision, shared hope through trust and commonality of purpose to be there for one another. If there was a spot for quote of the month I'd pick this: One of the most important things you can do on this earth is to let people know they're not alone.

Ultimately, when Jesus said 'love your neighbour' he knew your neighbour would act, look, believe and love differently than you. It's kind of the whole point.

Blessings

We had a busy time in August during the annual scything of the churchyard, and also began to tidy some of the graves and clear a bit of encroaching ivy!

It was lovely to see that various frogs, toads and even a family of voles were easily able to avoid the hand scythes. Clumps of flowering plants and fruiting brambles have been left for a bit of late summer/autumn food and cover.

Looking ahead, we have 2 services this month: our Celtic Communion at 6pm on Sunday 3rd and our Harvest Service at 6pm on Sunday 17th followed September bv light refreshments. We plan to have services on 1st and 3rd Sundays of each month, at 6pm during British Summer Time, and then reverting to 3pm in the winter and spring. We hope to hold a short remembrance service at 10.45 on 11th November and our Candlelit Carols will be on Sunday 17th December at 3pm.

We are planning to have a History Celebration in August 2024 focussing on some of the people who have lived and worked in Marton and Moxby. We hope to be able to contribute to the 'Marton Morsels' on the Stillington and District Community Archive https://www.stillingtoncommunityarchi ve.org/memories so please get in touch via martonintheforest@gmail.com if you have any stories or photos you might be willing to share with us!
